And it's not a solution, because there are plenty of times where there is no wi-fi.. Could someone please tell me what I should do now? Have you tried setting up a PC-to-PC wireless local network? When I played some LAN games with my friends, that's what we would do.. Except when I'm in the ingame LAN lobby, no one can see me, and I can't see them.. I've retried all of these scenarios while running the game as administrator Both 'Local Area Connection' (the ethernet cord) and the ad-hoc network come up as 'Unidentified Networks', which are classified as Work type networks.. Both laptops were successfully connected to the wireless ad-hoc Uploaded with ImageShack. Apple Hard Drive Carrier For Mac

My friends have a combination of XP and Vista computers We play 1v1, so we use an ethernet crossover cable or an ad-hoc network.. My laptop is a rather new Dell Studio XPS 1645 running Windows 7 64-bit I was really excited to get it, because I could play Battle for Middle-earth II (for short, BFME II) once more and get some regular LAN games of BFME II going with my friends.. usUploaded with ImageShack ustry using hamachi - this will create a virtual network over the internet with you and your friends when you invite them only and that way you are all connected thats what i use for BFME IISorry, but I already do.. When you open the NETWORK AND SHARING CENTER, what do you see for the NETWORK?Open a COMMAND PROMPT and enter NET VIEW, do you only see your computer or others as well?Irv S.. And disable our firewalls Hope you find what you are looking for Joe 'Maverick' SettAre ALL computers in the same NETWORK NAME? W7 defaults to a different name.. I've manually set the IP address, subnet, and DNS server numbers when using ethernet.. I've double-checked that the cord isn't damaged, and I get the same issue going over a wireless ad-hoc network anyways. ae05505a44 Yamaha Dme Driver For Mac
